Lawyer Monthly 2018 Private Client Awards

Lawyer Monthly 2018 Private Client Winners Announced and Special Awards Edition Published

Lawyer Monthly is pleased to announce the publication of its 2018 Private Awards, which recognises the achievements of law firms and individuals who have delivered exceptional results for their clients over the past 12 months.

Lawyer Monthly recognises those who play such a crucial role in the private client sector. From bringing together advisers from a range of professional fields, to representing high profile clients and handling large trusts, our private client award winners have overcome all challenges. They thrive in tough conditions, exposing highly technical knowledge in their field to guide even the best business people through the complexity of tax, trusts and estates.

The Lawyer Monthly Private Client 2018 winners have stood out from their peers by demonstrating exceptional skills, from: emotional intelligence, to maintaining trusted relations with clients to ensure their assets are secured for future generations; international presence by conquering laws from all over the globe for their international clients, and of course, versatility, by staying on top of all the latest legal developments, from immigration law to art law.

Over several months, the Lawyer Monthly research team has collected and collated nominations through our online voting system. Each nomination has then been compared against a strict set of measurable criteria, which was in turn combined with additional industry research to help produce a definitive list of winners.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all the winners and thank everyone who voted.
